

Hello Boys and Girls

This week we are learning about nocturnal animals. Our story this week is Owl Babies by Martin Waddell and here is a link to watch the story.

Now here are the activities for the week. We have split them into different areas of learning. Remember, they can be done in any order that you like.

PSED	The owl babies really looked forward to their owl mother coming home. Who is really special in your family and looks after you? Maybe you are thinking of your Mum, Dad or Grandparents. Can you draw a picture of the special things they do for you?
Physical Development	Do you know the game What's the time Mr Wolf? Take turns in your family to be the wolf. Take careful slow steps when you're creeping up on the wolf and run away as fast as you can when the wolf turns around.
Literacy	Who was your favourite character in Owl Babies ? Was it Sarah, Percy or Bill? Can you draw a picture of your favourite?
Communication and Language	Animals that come out at night are very good at hearing tiny sounds. We are going to play a game to practise our amazing listening skills. Choose your favourite story, one that you know all of the words to. Now ask your grown up to read the story to you but make some deliberate mistakes, for example, Once upon a time there were two little pigs..... Your job is to listen very carefully and spot the mistakes – can your grown up catch you out?
Maths	Owls have very round eyes, like saucers. What is the name of that shape? How many circles can you find in your house and garden? Can you draw some of the circles that you find? Here is a counting song about owls:

Understanding the World	Hedgehogs are special creatures that explore our gardens at night time. Have a look at this film to find out how we can look after them in our gardens. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZMVWPvhFrpw Maybe you could set up a hedgehog box and feeding station in your garden?
Expressive Art	Collect some brown crunchy leaves to make your very own hedgehog.

Finally, Peppa Pig has been finding out about night animals too!

We hope you all stay safe and well and we look forward to seeing you back in nursery very soon!
